*AMI (Area Median Income) is $73,500 for an individual and $104,900 for a family of four in the Twin Cities Metro (HUD, 2021).

Source: HousingLink’s Market Rent Data. AMI based on HUD’s Income Limits data, published annually at https://www.huduser.gov. Affordability analysis based on a family paying no more than 30% of income on gross housing costs, accounting for household size, utility costs, and building type.
Subsidized Housing in Minneapolis

Housing Choice Voucher forfeited in Q3 2021¹
This figure refers to vouchers families were unable to place in service. This can result from rent exceeding the Public Housing Authority’s ability to adequately subsidize the voucher holder’s portion of, or a landlord’s unwillingness to participate in, the Section 8 Housing Choice Voucher program. Periods of low vacancy, such as Minneapolis is currently experiencing, typically exacerbate both of these constraints.

¹ Source: Analysis of City of Minneapolis Regulatory Services rental license data. Note: The City of Minneapolis uses a tiered rating system as part of their rental process. Tier 3 rentals are those which require excessive city services, are poorly maintained or managed, and may be at a higher risk for fire damage. Tier 3 rentals are additionally on the most frequent inspection cycle (one-year).

Apartment Sales & Development

Apartment Development as of the end of Q3 2021¹

- Proposed Projects
  - w/Known Affordable Units: 49
  - w/no Known Affordable Units: 97

- Permitted & Under Construction Projects
  - w/Known Affordable Units: 33
  - w/no Known Affordable Units: 111

Presence of affordable units is not always known when information is gathered for this metric and thus it is most accurate to simply refer to projects “w/Known Affordable Units” and projects “w/no Known Affordable Units.”
